Adventures seekers, cultural enthusiasts, foodies and nature lovers will benefit from the extensive knowledge and insights an Aboriginal guide can provide.

Australia is home to the oldest living culture on Earth and Aboriginal guides across the country offer a real connection to the place and a new way of experiencing it. Every part of Australia is Aboriginal country and every part of that country has a series of stories and experiences that are unique to it.

Discover Aboriginal Experiences is a collective of quality, authentic Aboriginal guided tourism offerings that have met guidelines that ensure they are able to meet the needs and expectations of tourists and the international market. It is a flagship suite of extraordinary Aboriginal Australian experiences, showcasing the world’s oldest living culture through the perspectives of cultural insights, authenticity and meaningful connections.

This collective is part of Tourism Australia’s Signature Experiences of Australia program that packages and promotes Australia’s outstanding tourism products.

Aboriginal guides are warm, welcoming and extremely generous of spirit. They are keen to share their story and give an insight into their culture. They bring the landscape to life allowing visitors to gain a deeper appreciation of Australia.

Tourism Australia intensively promotes the collective through a range of trade marketing activities including a dedicated Aussie Specialist online training module that provides an overview of our rich and diverse Aboriginal tourism experiences and shares as insight into Aboriginal culture. Suggested itineraries and fact sheets are available. Visit: www.aussiespecialist.com

Visit our website for detailed information on each of the experiences in the collective: www.tourism.australia.com/aboriginal

Some experiences profiled in this booklet are identified as Aboriginal Owned.

The experiences identified as Aboriginal Owned are offered by businesses that are at least 50 per cent Aboriginal owned.

The terms Aboriginal and Indigenous are used interchangeably in this document.

The term Aboriginal is more commonly used in Tourism Australia’s global marketing communications due to higher international recognition and association with Australia, though should be assumed to include Torres Strait Islanders where relevant.

The breathtaking Kings Canyon, located in Australia’s Red Centre, provides the ultimate backdrop for the one-hour Karrke Aboriginal Cultural Tour. Christine and Peter manage to pack a lot into an hour. You’ll be introduced to native foods such as bush tomato, bush plum, wild fig, and people tell their stories. And see how mulga wood is shaped into an important medium through which Central Australian desert people tell their stories. And see how mulga wood is shaped into tools, weapons such as spears and hunting clubs, and artefacts such as bark painting, pandanus weaving and making Yidaki (didjeridus) as the women’s tours, which manages Lirrwi Tourism. “Guests bond with the Aboriginal people past and present, for the sun and the stars, the birds and the crocodiles, dancing, wearing, building mask and are incredibly moving crying ceremony where the Creation ancestors are thanked for people past, for the first time, a grandma and her granddaughter doing a tour.”

Lirrwi Tourism

Arnhem Land is home to the Yolŋu people – custodians of one of the world’s oldest, most intact and complex living cultures. Most Australians have had little experience of the Yolŋu homelands that are located in one of the most remote and spectacular parts of Australia, East Arnhem Land. Make the trip and you’ll drop into a wondrous parallel world – one where the calendar is divided into six seasons, and songs, or Dreaming tracks, run through the landscape. Create unforgettable experiences for visitors – while allowing the Yolŋu people to practice their culture unfettered – requires a delicate balancing act. It’s a challenge that Lirrwi Tourism has embraced.

And see how mulga wood is shaped into an important medium through which Central Australian desert people tell their stories. And see how mulga wood is shaped into tools, weapons such as spears and hunting clubs, and artefacts such as bark painting, pandanus weaving and making Yidaki (didjeridus) as the women’s tours, which manages Lirrwi Tourism. “Guests bond with the Aboriginal people past and present, for the sun and the stars, the birds and the crocodiles, dancing, wearing, building mask and are incredibly moving crying ceremony where the Creation ancestors are thanked for people past, for the first time, a grandma and her granddaughter doing a tour.”

Arnhem Land is home to the Yolŋu people – custodians of one of the world’s oldest, most intact and complex living cultures. Most Australians have had little experience of the Yolŋu homelands that are located in one of the most remote and spectacular parts of Australia, East Arnhem Land. Make the trip and you’ll drop into a wondrous parallel world – one where the calendar is divided into six seasons, and songs, or Dreaming tracks, run through the landscape. Create unforgettable experiences for visitors – while allowing the Yolŋu people to practice their culture unfettered – requires a delicate balancing act. It’s a challenge that Lirrwi Tourism has embraced.

After a ferry ride on a high-speed catamaran, your Tiwi guides will take you on an easy walking tour on which you’ll meet artists, make your own screen-printed textile, to take home as a memento, from the so-called Islands of Smiles. A day trip to the main island, and a café), disembark on the beach at Bathurst Island and meet your Tiwi guides. A few minutes’ walk away from disembarking in the Tiwi Design art centre, and a ‘Welcome to Country’ ceremony. Tiwi dancers representing the islands’ different skin groups will greet you, and a smoking ceremony will drive away any bad spirits. Then it’s off to the most brilliant and remarkable Pate Tikily Museum, established by Sister Anne Gardiner, who has lived on Bathurst Island since 1953. It features everything from canoes to an ATV Hall of Fame, dedicated to the Tiwi Islanders who have gone on to have ferry careers on the mainland (like most Tiwi residents, Sister Anne is a huge Aussie Rules fan).

A visit to a church is next. Inside, behind its white timber exterior, the church is brilliantly decorated with Tiwi art; your guides will help you understand how Catholicism and Tiwi culture somehow manage to work together. Back at the arts centre, after lunch, the artists will guide you in making your own screen-printed textile, to take home as a memento, from the so-called Islands of Smiles.

ADVENTURE NORTH AUSTRALIA

This cultural experience offers a unique insight into the Aboriginal Dreamtime stories of Tropical North Queensland. Small group experiences with passionate guides sharing their incredible ‘back yard’ with you.

Adventure North Australia is a small group touring company with a great reputation. Operating since 2004, and with a strong customer focus and a commitment to delivering exceptional experiences for our guests, we work with traditional custodians of the land to create tours that are transformative as they are informative. Today, the company continues its innovative partnership with the local Kuku Yalanji people – specialist experiences designed to give you a greater appreciation for the region’s ancient cultures.

There is no doubt that the landscapes you visit with Adventure North are impressive, taking you through World Heritage-listed Daintree Rainforest, to sacred Aboriginal beaches. But it’s the stories you hear from the Aboriginal guides along the way that will leave the greatest impression.

Guided walks through the world’s oldest living rainforest, dense mangroves to Cooya Beach, an important Kuku Yalanji fishing ground. If you ever wanted to know how to spearfish, catch a crab or fossick for tucker, now’s your chance. At Mossman Gorge experience a ‘Welcome to Country’ smoking ceremony before exploring the rainforest ecosystems, past waterfalls where native fauna thrives. DREAMTIME DIVE & SNORKEL

Dreamtime Dive & Snorkel is a unique educational Great Barrier Reef experience incorporating the world’s oldest living culture and ancient Traditional Owners have passed down over tens of thousands of years.

On the way to visiting two outer reef sites, Dreamtime Indigenous rangers welcome guests to the Sea Country and share Dreamtime stories including the Great Barrier Reef Creation story. The Gimuy Walubara Yidinji Dreamtime story tells of a hunter spearing a sacred stingray which infuriated the spirit of the ocean. The sacred stingray flapped its wings making big waves and strong winds causing the sea to rise, and the spirit of the sea unleashed a ferocious storm that threatened to wipe out the hunter’s tribe. His people heated up big rocks with fire and rolled these into the ocean which formed a barrier to appease the spirit who subsequently calmed the sea. The Great Barrier Reef was thus born. Rangers take guests on guided snorkel tours through waters their hunter-gatherer ancestors knew intimately, through foraging for Barramundi and Bream, catfish and prawns. Guests learn about the ancient relationships between man, marine creatures and the ecosystem they’ve shared for tens of thousands of years. After a full day of water activities on the reef, a cultural performance showcases Dreamtime stories as Calypso XII steams back to Cairns.

PRIVATE CHARTER

Talented itineraries from half day to multi day touring includes cultural experiences with Aboriginal Traditional Owners on their homelands. Highlights can include Indigenous Ranger Programs, rock art galleries, coastal survival, art workshops, rainforest walks, basket weaving and beach chartered. Accommodation options include budget, camping and resort-style.
A high-end dining experience, a unique insight into Aboriginal culture and a magical setting in an ancient rainforest is a combination that results in an unforgettable evening in Tropical Far North Queensland. An opportunity to immerse yourself in the traditional grounds of the Kuku Yalanji people, whilst connected with our country people through storytelling, didgeridoo and song.

The Flames of the Forest Aboriginal Cultural Experience involves heading into the World Heritage-listed Wet Tropics rainforest for a seven-dish banquet dinner served under a silk canopy illuminated by the haunting sound of the world’s oldest woodwind instrument – the didgeridoo.

Opportunity for small groups to experience exclusivity and the enchantment of the rainforest at night with a private dining experience interspersed with music and storytelling, including a fascinating ‘hands-on’ with workshop and storytelling classes helping them better understand Aboriginal art. Displaying authentic Aboriginal arts and crafts, Janbal Gallery explores the reef and rainforest culture of the local Kuku Yalanji people through its art.

Janbal Gallery is Aboriginal owned and operated and exclusively exhibits Aboriginal art. Located in Mossman in Far North Queensland, visitors can get hands-on with workshop and storytelling classes helping them better understand Aboriginal art.

There is also the opportunity to meet the resident artist and understand cultural and artistic learnings and themes, something that is thoroughly enjoyed by locals and international visitors alike. Brian ‘Binna’ Swindley, Janbal Gallery’s owner and an artist himself, will welcome you into his space to enjoy and share a true Aboriginal experience you won’t forget.

When Kuki Yalanji man Johnny Murison stumbled across a gallery of Aboriginal rock art while four-wheel-driving in outback Queensland a few years ago, his life changed forever. The former carpenter set up Jarramali Rock Art Tours in 2017 to show visitors the so-called “Magnificent Gallery”, part of the world-renowned Quinkan rock art outside the tiny town of Laura in far north Queensland.

The multi-dimensional journey to the site near the historic town of Laura, about 300kms north-west of Cairns, is usually aboard Murison’s “beast”, a 4WD that can seat 11 passengers. Along the coach road out of Laura, he points out highlights such as the pick-axe marks left by old-timers who hacked out this track from difficult, rugged country and tells Dreaming stories about how the landscape was created.

As for the Quinkan rock art, expect to see “every dietary item” depicted on the sandstone walls, along with female ancestral bodies, lore men and medicine men. The animal figures include crocodiles, kangaroos, emus, birds, barramundi, catfish and British and Irish fish. “You show me the whole structure of our society by looking at that gallery,” says Murison. Certainly, it’s a completely different experience from Cape York’s star attractions of reef and rainforest. This tour involves buckling up to travel by 4WD along the historic Maytown-Laura Old Coach Road through savannah grasslands and open woodland to reach Magnificent Gallery.

Those who are driving their own 4WD – and are keen for a spot of extreme four-wheel-driving along one of Australia’s “gnarliest” roads – can also tag along from Laura on a daytrip.

The overnight tour includes camping at a stunning spot overlooking a gorge. As dinner roasts over the coals, everyone gathers around the campfire to listen to the evocative sounds of the didgeridoo being played. As the sun rises over the escarpment the next morning, a bush breakfast is cooked on the campfire with bush tucker and medicines.

Melbourne
Visitors looking to experience Aboriginal culture within an urban setting should look no further than Melbourne’s Koorie Heritage Trust. With a prominent location at Federation Square in the heart of the city, they offer several ways to gain insight into how Aboriginal people in Victoria once practised their culture and how they continue to keep it alive today.

The longer Birrarung Wilam Walk (1.5 to two hours) includes this route, then continues to the William Barak Bridge that connects Birrarung Wilam (a 0.3 hectares park) and Yarra Park. This tour is designed to bridge the divide between European settlers and the country’s original inhabitants. “He was probably one of Australia’s first Aboriginal activists,” says Hyatt.

At the Melbourne Convention Centre, known as the MCG, visitors will see the scar trees, “a culturally protected site and remnants of Aboriginal occupation for Aboriginal peoples arriving in the Melbourne area.” The area was traditionally a ceremonial ground and Aboriginal elders still perform ceremonies at the MCG despite major events such as the AFL grand final, says Hyatt.

With an Indigenous guide who shares not only the city’s Aboriginal history, but something of their own story, too. The trust also offers incredibly informative walking tours, led by an Indigenous guide who shares not only the city’s Aboriginal history, but something of their own story, too. Koomal Dreaming provides an opportunity for visitors to experience Wadandi and Bibbulman culture (the Margaret River Region) through the eyes of the Traditional Owners. Josh Whiteland, Wadandi cultural custodian, offers guests with the opportunity to taste native foods, discover bush medicine, and experience traditional fire lighting. Josh recounts stories of the Dreaming spirits that relate to his traditional area, and takes visitors deep into Ngilgi Cave for a uniquely memorable didgeridoo cave experience.

The Wadandi and Bibbulman people of Australia’s south-west have walked the ancient Margaret River lands for almost 50,000 years. Together with other Aboriginal groups from Kalbarri to Esperance, they are known as Noongar. The Noongar culture is as rich and varied as the countryside itself, and sharing in their knowledge of culture and the pristine environment is fascinating.

Josh Whiteland will help you explore the region on a number of tour options that show the local plants used for traditional medicines and provide you with a taste of native bush foods. He’ll also demonstrate the traditional ways of fire lighting, the ancient art of tool making and introduce you to the animals, plants and Dreaming Spirits that have enriched the lives of the local people and their ancestors.

Josh also happens to be a talented musician who will delight you with a mesmerising didgeridoo performance and stories about Dreamtime legends inside the spectacular Ngilgi Cave, where the good spirit Ngili lives.

Private tours, customised experiences and cultural awareness sessions are also available.

NARLIJIA EXPERIENCES
BROOME

The historic pearling town of Broome is revered for epic sunsets and magnificent beaches bounded by red pindan scrub, but to learn the complete story of its fascinating past and present, spend time with local Yawuru man Bart Pigram. Bart shares generational knowledge and recounts ancient stories of the saltwater Yawuru people through fascinating daily tours or cultural cruise of the Broome and Roebuck Bay region.

Bart shares generational knowledge and recounts ancient stories of the saltwater Yawuru people through fascinating daily tours. In Yawuru Aboriginal language, Narlijia means ‘true for you’ and Bart embraces the opportunity to create a deeper connection between cultures.

He draws on his professional training in cultural development to create unique experiences that include busk-tucker, significant sites such as Didirrgun, a massive shell midden or trailing 130-million-year-old dinosaur footprints.

Whether it’s aboard a 42-foot catamaran at sunset or exploring a mangrove forest, Bart’s tours are insightful and entertaining; he comes from a family of musicians and pearling workers who share deep connection to Country. Bart offers four cultural tours in and around Broome.

LIFE OF GUWAN TOUR
Visit Broome’s largest ancient shell midden and artefact site overlooking Roebuck Bay and understand the cultural landscape and pearling history. Conclude with pearl meat tasting and live pearl shell harvest.

CULTURAL CRUISE
Sit back on board 42ft Catamaran and cruise through Roebuck Bay or around Gantheuame Point with Aboriginal guide sharing history, culture, food and music. BYO or purchase drinks on board.
Experience Aboriginal culture, vast landscapes, bush tucker and Dreaming stories of the Pilbara, Burrup Peninsula and Millstream Chichester National Park with Ngurrangga Tours led by Tourism Award-winning Clinton Walker, a descendant of the Ngarluma and Yindjibarndi people, Traditional Owners of the West Pilbara in the north of Western Australia.

It's estimated there could be up to a million rock-art images tucked into the Burrup Peninsula and Dampier Archipelago, some dating back as far as 40,000 years. Walker's tour of Murujuga National Park, home to the world's highest concentration of rock art, allows you to experience everything from first contact with Europeans to megafauna and other extinct species. The Park is an oasis in the desert with its rugged gorges, tropical rock pools and meandering watercourses.

A full day tour of Millstream Chichester National Park includes a Dreaming story about how the Warlu (Rainbow Serpent) created this oasis in the desert. Henry of Walker’s former guides returned saying, “It’s not a run of the mill tour and the Dreaming story associated with the constellations. ‘You can actually see the Serpent in the sky.’ He says. This long-favoured spot of Walker’s is also a repository of artefacts such as stone axes, spearheads and grinding stones. For guests who say, “I want to do everything you’ve got”, Walker combines his individual tours into a super-tour that takes three days.

A trip out on country to your guide’s favourite fishing spots and traditional hunting grounds as you catch mud crabs and forage for native fruits and vegetables before enjoying a big feast including freshly cooked kangaroo tales in the earth oven. You must be willing to get your hands and feet dirty on this tour as you will be walking through mud, spinifex and scrub.

A day exploring the Millstream Chichester National Park to learn the traditions stories about how the Warlu (Serpent) created the traditional home of the Yindjibarndi people. Millstream during a time known as Ngurra-nyunjungamu (when the world was soft). Millstream is an oasis in the desert complete with stunning pools and native palm trees. Camp under the stars learning the stories associated with the constellations and how these stories assisted in the traditional stories about how the Warlu (Serpent) created the traditional home of the Yindjibarndi people and Yarndanyirra (Fortescue River). Includes: Karratha Visitor Centre and local transfers (BYO child car seats) or meet at site.

A full day tour of George Gorge (situated on the Ngarluma and Yindjibarndi lands) in the heart of the Pilbara Region. George Gorge is an oasis in the desert complete with stunning pools and native palm trees. Camp under the stars learning the stories associated with the constellations and how these stories assisted in the traditional stories about how the Warlu (Serpent) created the traditional home of the Yindjibarndi people. Includes: Karratha Visitor Centre, local transfers (BYO child car seats) or meet at site. National Park fees, camping equipment, morning/afternoon tea, lunch, dinner and breakfast.
